

Sunday Evening Home Worship Guide

Open with prayer for God's wisdom to be given.

As we go through every day, do we think to ourselves, "Don't forget to breathe?" Thankfully, we don't have to think about such a necessary action to get through the day. Our minds are already busy enough with other, important concerns. God wants our lives to be as simple as possible. Without Him, life is much more complex; sin leads to chaos and death. It is God's will that His work is not only done, but done as smoothly as possible. How? God's command is that we seek His kingdom first. Let's stop and hear the word, "first," again. This means we first live by His direction, with Him as Ruler of our lives. Pray. Study God's instruction. Be obedient. We are to be citizens of His kingdom.

Read Matthew 6:33.

Discuss with your family or think and pray on your own: Who receives our attention first today? What is most on our minds? Where does our energy go? How can we first be citizens of God's kingdom today?

Close with prayer in thanksgiving to God.
